

SALE OF USED PIANOS

We have a collection of USED Pianos taken in exchange for new grands and Pianola Pianos during the holiday business. A few of these are now ready for sale, and we have disregarded all precedent in marking prices.

Understand, we do not claim that these pianos are first-class—they are obviously not, being second-hand; but we do assert that each one has been practically rebuilt. The felts have been renewed where worn or moth-eaten; the actions adjusted, the cases repolished, and to all intents and purposes the instruments are in good condition. In fact, there is no doubt that the pianos will give good and long service, and are well worth the money you pay for them.

PANIC CAUSED BY NIGHT RIDERS

They Have Been Going Through County Whipping Men and Women.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Dalton, Ga., January 18.—A panic has been created among the people in the Southern portion of Whitfield County by night riders, who are whipping men and women for alleged immorality and for other offenses. The night riders have been at work for some time, and they have whipped several persons and have warned others that they will be whipped unless they mend their ways. Thursday night night riders visited the home of John Shannon, a prominent planter, dragged him from his bed and lashed him until he was nearly dead. There were about forty men in the band, and all were masked. It is alleged that they gave as their reason for whipping Shannon that he had not conducted himself becomingly in his household. Shannon states that he recognized some of the riders, but is afraid to give their names. He has arranged to dispose of his property and go to Atlanta.

Following the whipping of Shannon, others were visited, being told that the whipping given Shannon was only a sample of the dose to be given them unless they quickly mended their ways.

whipped because it was alleged they were unkind to their wives. Two women were also whipped on the ground that they cared more for other men than for their husbands. The night riders began here in Dalton about two months ago, when masked men entered the town after midnight and whipped several men and women for alleged immorality. Since then the night riders have operated in other parts of the country, but not so generally as in the southern section.

NEW YORK IS HIT BY HEAVY GALE

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
New York, January 18.—A storm that was central this morning over Lake Erie, dragging into its maw frosty breezes from the west and northwest, was responsible to-night for the swift shifting of wind in this neighborhood and the creation of a riotous northwest wind which for ten minutes or so galloped at an eighty-mile rate, and from two and one-half hours, or from 7 to 9:30 o'clock, howled steadily at seventy-two miles. The air up to the time the gale began was almost like that of a day in April. The wind in the period of its greatest force caused trouble to people blowing light wagons over, ripped the roofs off buildings, wrecked big signs and stove plate glass windows. It was not a local disturbance. All the way from Cleveland down Philadelphia the blast, varying in force from forty-eight to eighty-eight miles, knocked things about and tore up trees and shrubbery.

Earlier in the week two men were

Mrs. Humphreys read some short extracts from "Dixie Days," which was followed by the singing of "We're Old-Time Confederates," the chorus being sung by the whole chapter. Mrs. W. A. Fitzpatrick then read the poem by James Burton Hope, which was written for the unveiling of the Lee Monument in Richmond, entitled "Washington and Lee." Among the decorations in the room was a picture of General Lee, draped with Confederate flags and surrounded by a wreath of gales leaves. At the conclusion of the exercises refreshments were served by Misses Belle Thomas, Emmeline Atsagach, Bertie Sale and George Smith.

Would Stop Army Racing.

Washington, January 18.—An amendment to the army appropriation bill to prohibit the transportation at government expense of army horses, to participate in polo, racing and races, was introduced to-day by Representative Burk, of South Dakota, precipitated a heated debate and resulted in an adjournment of the House on the point of no quorum. Representatives Burk, Madden, of Illinois, and others advocated adoption of the amendment.

Representative Hay, of Virginia, Republican Leader Mann and Representative Kahn, of California, opposed it, insisting that army men were permitted to enter their horses in games and races because the practice tended to aid the movement for improvement in mounts.

An amendment to the bill to restore the army canteen, offered by Representative Bartholdt, of Missouri, was ruled out on a point of order.

No Hearing Held.

Washington, January 18.—The House Ways and Means Committee, which has been engaged in hearings on the tariff since January 8, held no session to-day. Nine of the fourteen scheduled of this law have been disposed of thus far in the hearings and the committee will resume next week the agricultural, cotton, flax, hemp and jute schedules. Some of the House members to-day informally talked over the evidence gathered during the week and sought views of Senators on the arguments made.

No Cadets in Parade.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Washington, January 18.—If action taken to-day by the House of Representatives is concurred in by the Senate another feature of past inaugurations will be lacking when Governor Wilson is inducted into office on March 4. The House went on record as opposed to the presence of the West Point cadets in the inaugural parade. The military bill as reported to the House contained a provision appropriating money to bring the cadets to Washington for the inauguration. Representative Foster, of Illinois, made a point of order and the provisions were eliminated.

FIGHT IS RESULT OF FAMILY FEUD

Fierce Pistol and Knife Duel, in Which Seven Men Are Seriously Wounded.

Charlotte, N. C., January 18.—A special to the Observer from Morganton, tells of a fierce pistol and knife duel which took place at Glen Alpine, a small place six miles from there, to-day, in which seven men received what is thought to be fatal wounds.

The fight is alleged to be the result of a feud that is said to have existed between the Pitts and Hennessee families, and which culminated in the conflict to-night.

Friends of both families rushed to the scene and were themselves soon engaged in the bloody battle, some of whom received fatal wounds.

Dr. E. A. Hennessee, a prominent physician of Burke County, was one of the combatants, and was shot through the head and lungs and cannot, it is said, live through the night. M. N. Hennessee and Abel Pitts, two others, engaged in the affray, are reported mortally wounded, while Gorman Pitts, Ervine Pitts and Sam Bennett, the latter the policeman of the village, are seriously, if not fatally shot. Others engaged in the affray are more or less seriously wounded. Sheriff Beverly left immediately after the tragedy to make an investigation.

TRESTLE SEIZED BY U. S. TROOPS

Drastic Action Is Taken in Controversy With Railroad.

Buffalo, N. Y., January 18.—A company of the Twenty-ninth Infantry marched from Erie to-day and seized that part of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western coal trestle which, the government alleges, encroaches on Federal property. The last trestle was back fifteen feet from the water along about 1,000 feet of the harbor entrance and is worth several hundred thousand dollars. It has been the subject of litigation between the railroad and the government for twenty years.

To-day's warlike demonstration was made upon the recommendation of John Lord O'Brien, United States attorney. He recently submitted a report to Attorney General Wickersham covering the status of the fight for the possession of the property and to-day R. C. Strickland, Assistant Attorney General, came here with sealed orders from the Secretary of War to the commandant to place his whole force under the direction of Mr. O'Brien and Mr. Strickland. The soldiers marched upon the dock equipped for an indefinite stay. The next morning Mr. O'Brien said, rests with the railroad and unless it moves quickly, he added, the trestle will be torn down.

Claim of Government.

Washington, January 18.—The Federal soldiers were ordered to take possession of the "north" pier at Buffalo by Secretary of War Stimson at the request of Attorney-General Wickersham. The government has disputed the Lackawanna Railroad's right to the pier for many years. The Department of Justice is said to have convinced the Secretary of War that the United States had a clear claim to the property and R. T. Strickland, an attorney for the department, left Washington a few days ago for Buffalo with Secretary Stimson's order. United States Attorney O'Brien at Buffalo consulted the Attorney-General several times in the government's effort to reject the railroad. The government's claim of the ownership of the pier is based upon more than fifty years' continuous undisputed occupancy. The pier was acquired by the United States in 1829, and no question of ownership was raised until 1875, when it is declared the railroad became a squatter and acquired a foothold.

In 1910 an order was issued by the government forbidding the railroad's boats to dock at the controverted pier. Permits since, however, have been issued by the War Department granting temporary occupancy of the property. The last permit expired in December and was not renewed. The wharf was used for the landing of government supplies and equipment for harbor improvements. It was charged that the railroad boats were an obstruction to navigation.

Benefitted Many Who Had Lung Trouble

Those who suffer from Consumption are generally troubled with night sweats, fever, loss of strength and little or no appetite. Fresh air, good food and the proper care of the body are essential to a recovery, but in many cases something more is needed. Eckman's Alternative is a medicine which has been most successful in stopping night sweats, reducing fever and promoting appetite, and many who have used it declare it saved their lives. Investigate what it did in this case:

"Gentlemen: For four years I was troubled with cough, which gradually became worse. I had night sweats, fever, loss of strength, and was losing my appetite, and had become so thin and weak I could not attend to my household duties. A physician recommended my case Consumption. Not being satisfied, I was examined by the physicians of the Polytechnic Hospital. They also pronounced the disease Consumption, which was proven later by examination of sputum, as Tuberculosis Bacilli were found. I was ordered to a Consumptive Hospital. My nephew would do all he could to get me to go, but I tried Eckman's Alternative. Before I had taken the medicine three weeks I had marked relief, night sweats ceased, pain in the breast relieved, cough became less and easy, fever left me, and I commenced getting well. My health became normal. I am in excellent health now, and have been a clearly cured for the year. I strongly recommend it."

"EUREKA"

A Starch Preparation

A Royal Laundry Discovery

The Pictures Tell the Story

You Must Believe What Your Eyes See

After months of experimenting and rigid testing the proprietor of the Royal Laundry has invented and perfected a vegetable compound ("EUREKA") which, when used in proper proportion with ordinary starch, produces a starch of rubber-like flexibility and velvet smoothness.

"Eureka" is mixed with ordinary starch while being prepared, and is applied by specially designed machines to collars, cuffs and shirt bosoms and pleats. "Eureka" is a VEGETABLE mixture without any ingredients that might injure the finest fabrics.

"Eureka" is Used Exclusively by the Royal Laundry. No More Cracked Collars or Split Pleats

The Royal Laundry "Eureka" process lengthens the life of collars, cuffs and shirt bosoms and bands, eliminating altogether the cracking, scaling and splitting which is so objectionable. A collar laundered by the Eureka process can be twisted like a shaving, and when released will immediately spring back into original shape, showing no signs of cracking or roughness. We guarantee new collars treated by the Royal Laundry Eureka process to last at least four months.

The machines specially constructed for us apply the starch in such a way as to distribute it equally over the entire surface, and the fabric comes out smooth and pliable and ready for the ironing and finishing processes. There are no "blistered" spots or wrinkles. All rough places are filled in and a kidlike surface and smooth edge is produced that gives a unique result to all work done by the Royal Laundry Eureka process.

This is indeed a wonderful invention, or discovery, and one that gives the Royal Laundry an advantage that means much to all who have their work done by us.

"EUREKA" in Other Laundries

It is the intention of the inventor (Mr. Florsheim) of "Eureka" to manufacture the product in Richmond and later on to market it all over the United States. For the present and until plans are perfected for a wide and general distribution of this wonderful discovery, Eureka will be used EXCLUSIVELY by the Royal Laundry.

CABELL REFUSES TO BE EXAMINED

sioner of Internal Revenue to issue the order for the removal of the whiskey.

When Mr. Cabell was placed on the stand he presented a digest of the Treasury Department's record, and offered as soon as the full record was obtained from the House committee, to supply the court with a certified copy. Attorneys for the owners of the whiskey wanted to know why he issued the order of removal. He declined to reply, pointing to the written instructions of Secretary MacVeagh. The commissioner contended that while his reasons do not appear in the record, he was controlled in issuing the order by his legal power as Commissioner of Internal Revenue. He is not called upon to divulge his reasons to the court. The attorneys protested and are understood to have threatened to ask Judge Boyd for an order compelling him to give the answers.

Mr. Cabell also refused to answer questions propounded by United States District Attorney Holton, of Greensboro, who attended the hearing.

The men boarded the mail boat at Police Island yesterday, and when it failed to reach here last night relatives became alarmed. The life saving crews started out late last night and searched for some time before the helpless party was found.
